MODERATION FOR GERMANY

Republican Group Predicts Victory In Election

BERLIN.—(By United Press)—A victory for moderation and the Republican group which comprises Democrats, Centrists and Socialists, was forecast today on the eve of Germany's national election.

For the second time this year, electors will choose a new reichstag at the polls tomorrow. Simultaneously state elections will be held in Prussia and Hesse.

While there are 20 or more political parties with candidates for parliament, including a "Women's party" and a party of "Dwelling hunters," the issue is between extremists on the right and left and the parties of moderation which will uphold the republic and the experts' plan.

BARN AND FOUR AUTOS BURN

Structure Completely Destroyed By Flames

PART OF PROPERTY SAVED

Insurance Will Cover Only Portion Of Loss

Four automobiles were burned and a large barn was practically destroyed by a midnight blaze of unknown origin which was discovered at 12:10 a. m. Friday and raged unabated for an hour and a half.

The building was owned by A. Burgoon and was located in the rear of 457 S. Central-av. Losses of $2,000 and $1,000 to the automobiles and building respectively were reported. Insurance on the building and one automobile partly covers the loss.

PART SAVED
Five automobiles, including that of the owner, were driven from the building before the blaze gutted the barn and the fire departments arrived. The other four were practically destroyed.

Machines burned were owned by R. Wilson, W. Chilcote, C. Kinney, and E. Rader. They were Chevrolet, Lexington, Paige and Oakland touring cars respectively.

When the Kibby-st fire department, which was closest to the blaze, arrived, the building was a mass of flames. By the time the fire was gotten under control skeletons of all four walls were still standing but the roof was gone and the building will have to be completely rebuilt.

Elected To Office Which Doesn't Exist

COLUMBUS—R. V. Shirley, who was elected probate judge of Paulding-co at the November election, will not get to serve in the office to which the people chose him, under a ruling of Attorney General Crabbe today.

When Shirley was elected, consolidation of the common pleas and probate courts was approved by the voters. S. S. Beard, prosecuting attorney of the county, was puzzled as to just when the head of the consolidated court would take office and submitted the question to Crabbe.

Crabbe ruled that W. F. Corbell, the present common pleas judge will head the new court at the expiration of the term of the present probate judge on Feb. 9 and will so serve until his term as common pleas judge expires, when a successor will be elected.

SWINDLER TRADES HIS NAME FOR NUMBER

JOLIET, Ill.—Leo Koretz, Chicago's greatest fake stock swindler, is now No. 9463.

The man who swindled hundreds of friends, including wealthy relatives, and duped well known business men out of a total variously estimated between $2,000,000 and $7,000,000 today went thru the formality of being officially accepted in the Joliet State prison, where he is to serve from one to ten years. A suit of blue denim replaced the carefully tailored attire he affected as the opulent oil land operator.

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Train Cuts Auto In Two At Vaughnsville Crossing

ONE IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Both Escape Death In Miraculous Manner

DELPHOS—Al Wolford, farmer, south of Delphos and near Spencerville, and Frank Baumgartner of Delphos, miraculously escaped death when Wolford's car, in which they were driving to Delphos, was struck by an east bound A. C. & Y. passenger train about 4:30 p. m. Friday near Vaughnsville. The automobile was cut in two by the impact and completely demolished. How the two escaped death is a puzzle to railroad officials.

BOTH HURT

The men were removed from the scene of the accident by the train to the office of Dr. J. Wolfe where their injuries were treated. Wolford is badly bruised and is suffering from what is believed to be a dislocated shoulder, while Baumgartner, who was more seriously injured, has a large cut on the top of his head and other bruises. It is feared that the latter is internally injured.

Wolford was removed to his home, where he is said to be nearly recovered.

Miss Moffat was released last night on $500 bond. She was jailed when she refused to return certain exhibits to court files. Miss Moffat says she was not paid for her work.

Special Inquiry Body Recommends Mayor's Removal

NINE ARE ADDED TO LIST

Action Follows Klan And Anti Uprising

WARREN, O.—(By United Press)—One hundred and thirteen indictments were returned by the grand jury probing the Niles riots of Nov. 1, it developed today.

First reports said that only 104 true bills were returned.

Today, however, authorities made public the names of nine men indicted for carrying concealed weapons on the day of the outbreaks and said that these indictments were in addition to the 104 announced late yesterday.

The nine indictments are for the men who were held to the grand jury after being arraigned before Mayor Harvey Kistler, at Niles, on charges growing out of the riots. They have been at liberty under bonds of $1,000 each.

Seven of the men live in Niles, one in Youngstown and one in Waynesburg.

Mayor Kistler, recommended for removal in the report of the grand jury, declared today that he would fight any effort to oust him.

"I have not heard from the governor," said Kistler, "but if charges are made against me I will not quit without a fight. Further than that I have nothing to say."

WARREN, O.—(By Associated Press)—No action was expected before next week on the 113 indictments returned by the special Trumbull-co grand jury which investigated disorders between Ku Klux Klan members and anti-

WEEK'S RECESS PROPOSED

House Adopts Resolution On Holiday Layoff

$80,000,000 FOR ROADS

Muscle Shoals Issue Awaits Military Report

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Members of the house today pressed today that one-week layoff over Christmas was sufficient and without a dissenting vote adopted a resolution offered by Rep. Longworth providing for a recess from Saturday, Dec. 20, to Monday, Dec. 23. Senate concurrence is needed. House leaders planned to limit the New Year's recess to one day, Jan. 1.

Resuming consideration of the interior department appropriation bill the house today defeated for a second time an amendment by Rep. Sinclair, Republican, North Dakota, to make available $50,000 for continuance of the Williston reclamation project in North Dakota. The vote was 26 to 12 and followed an adverse vote on the same question yesterday.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Eighty million dollars for road construction is carried in the annual agricultural appropriation bill as reported today to the house. This amount which would be available for expenditure during the coming fiscal year is $61,000,000 over the amount provided in last year's bill.

The road construction item is the principal feature of the measure, which carries a total of $124,627,715 or $38,229 more than the amount available for this fiscal year. In addition there are permanent and indefinite appropriations for the agricultural department totaling $12,340,750. Included in the measure were these appropriations: For acquisition of additional forest lands $1,000,000; enforcement of the packers and stock yards act $150,000; enforcement of the grain futures act $111,530; prevention of spread of the European spruce borer $383,630 and weather bureau $234,192.

ISSUE AT LULL

The Muscle Shoals issue stood at a lull today pending the report of military experts in the war department on the Underwood bill.

The senate was in adjournment until Monday, having received assurance, after a lengthy debate of the question yesterday, that the department's report would be ready on that day, when the issue will again be actively pressed with the hope of disposing of it at this session of congress.

Pres. Coolidge is expected to be guided to some extent by the military experts' report. If the report is unfavorable to the Underwood bill, senate leaders expect to have it defeated and the whole question referred to a congressional commission for final recommendation.

AWAIT SENATE

Administration leaders in the house are awaiting senate action before making any move toward settlement of the question. They are understood to be ready to support any plan which may receive the president's endorsement.

The expenditure of $150,000,000 for construction of new federal government buildings would be authorized under a bill introduced today by Rep. Elliott, Republican, acting chairman of the house public buildings committee.

MRS. ANNA WEABLY DIES SUDDENLY AT HER HOME

Mrs. Anna Lou Weably, 23, wife of Clarence E. Weably, 927 E. John street, died suddenly Saturday at 1 a. m. at her home from heart trouble. Although she had been in ill health for several months, her condition did not become serious until a few minutes before she succumbed.

The body was removed to the Bowersock funeral home, where it will remain pending word from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pogue, Dadeville, Ala.

EARLY ARRESTS EXPECTED

Klansmen at Niles, Nov. 1. At the office of County Prosecutor Harvey A. Burgess, it was stated that no warrants would be issued until next week and until the warrants are issued, no arrests will be made.

VOLUNTEERS TESTIFY

The indictments name persons who are alleged to have taken part in or were responsible for the disorders which followed announcement of a state-wide convulsion of the Klan and a meeting of members of the Klan at the Flaming Circle. The report was submitted to Common Pleas Judge C. M. Wilkins late yesterday after the jury had been in session ten days and examined 357 witnesses. In addition to those subpoenaed in testimony, many volunteers appeared to a request of the jurors to appear before them.

The jury recommended that Mayor Harvey C. Kistler and Chief of Police L. J. Rounds of Niles be removed from office and that the police department be thoroughly reorganized "for the best interests of the city and of the state."

RUMORS FROBED

Many rumors which spread thru the county following the disorders were investigated, the report continues, many being found to be without foundation. The report also cites that many affidavits which were filed were withdrawn, some persons having "made affidavits which they have admitted before the grand jury were not based on facts."

The camp of the klansmen of the city "was sentinelled and patrolled by men, armed with rifles and shotguns and hundreds of others in the camp were armed with smaller arms," the report declares.

COLUMBUS, O.—(By United Press)—Gov. Donahoe will be unable to comply with the recommendation of the Trumbull county grand jury, calling for removal from office of both Mayor Harvey C. Kistler and Chief of Police L. J. Rounds, of Niles, for alleged dereliction in office at the time of the Niles riots.

The governor has authority to oust the mayor, if proper charges and evidence are brought before him, but his power in this instance does not extend to the chief of police. Action before the Niles civil service commission will be necessary if Rounds is ousted.

This was the belief of Gov. Donahoe today, following study of the removal statutes and court decisions.

The governor's power to remove a chief of police covers only failure to enforce prohibition laws or his authority to remove a chief of police, covering not only failure to enforce prohibition laws but also misconduct in office and gross neglect of duty.

HIJACKERS RAID LIQUOR STORE

Loot Stolen From U. S. Worth $800,000

CHICAGO — Eight members of the guard supposed to have been on a twenty four hour vigil at the army warehouse from which it became known yesterday hundreds of cases of liquor were stolen, were under arrest today. The stolen liquor was part of a $2,000,000 hoard seized by prohibition agents and deputy United States marshals.

None of the names of the persons who were arrested, and numerous others were expected to be taken into custody. Deputy Chief Marshal Samuel Howard declared the robbery was not as extensive as at first reported. He said between 400 and 500 cases of liquor were missing.

It is believed that the removal may have covered a period of some time.

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—A band of hijackers raided a $3,000,000 hoard of fine liquors in a United States army warehouse here and stole rare whiskies and wines of an estimated value of $800,000 early last Sunday, according to Robert R. Levy, United States marshal.

The robbery, discovered Monday, was kept a secret until last night when federal agents questioned more than eighty soldiers and other government employees, some of whom were supposed to guard the store.

Pillbox steel doors were cut away and padlocks and bolts smashed by the robbers to gain the suppression, investigators said, that there had been no inside assistance.

Deputy marshals maintain a week day business hour guard, but were not on night duty. The quartermaster's department of the army, to whom the warehouse belongs, was required to maintain a 24-hour watch of armed soldiers, however.

Much of the liquor taken was seized in federal raids shortly after the advent of prohibition.

FURNACE DEATH PROBE ENDS

Prosecutor Abandons Inquiry In Woman's Death

COLUMBUS, O.—(By United Press)—Unless some unexpected clue pops up, investigation of the death of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, Lutheran pastor's wife whose charred remains were found in the furnace, is at an end, John R. King, county prosecutor, said today.

Apparently the verdict of Coroner Joseph Murphy that Mrs. Sheatsley took her own life has brought the case to a definite close.

King, abandoning the investigation for the first time in nearly three weeks, went about other duties of his office today, preparing the prosecution in a number of murder cases which have been postponed on account of the furnace mystery.

WOMAN IS FREED OF MURDER

Jury Acquits Mrs. Buzzi In Second Trial

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press)—Mrs. Anna Buzzi, twice tried for the murder of Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor, with whom she had lived seven years, was freed by a jury in Bronx supreme court early today.

Although she had been a prisoner since she was found guilty and sentenced to die in the electric chair in her first trial June 27, 1923 she elected to spend first night of freedom with jail matron who has been her constant companion since she went to the Bronx jail five months ago.

Before that she had spent eleven months in the death house at Sing Sing prison. She stayed the night with the matron outside the jail however.

Schneider was shot while in his automobile on a lonely road in the Bronx. The prosecution alleged Mrs. Buzzi was afraid he would discontinue relations with her.

Mrs. Buzzi's defense had rested entirely upon an alibi and the principal witness called by her counsel was Mrs. John McGeehan, wife of the district attorney, whose office was handling the prosecution. Mrs. McGeehan testified that she had talked with Mrs. Buzzi on the telephone at her home less than an hour after Schneider's body had been found.

Counsel for the defense claimed that Mrs. Buzzi could not have committed the crime and have reached her home in time to answer Mrs. McGeehan's call.

The principal witness for the state was Mrs. Buzzi's brother-in-law, William Burk, who swore that he had loaned the defendant the revolver with which Schneider was killed at her request and that she had confessed the crime to him later.

STEEL INCREASE REPORTED

Youngstown District Working 83 Per Cent of Capacity

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—(By Associated Press)—The biggest increase in Youngstown district steel mill operations for many months occurred today, when production was reported by manufacturers who made public schedules for next week. Steel output was at 78 per cent this week.

Active independent open hearth furnaces will increase from 38 this week to 43 next week, leaving only nine inactive furnaces. Active sheet mills will jump from 28 to 33. Both independent and corporate blast furnaces will be running at full capacity for the first time in years and tube mill output will be increased.

Independent executive report that incoming orders now are in excess of outgoing tonnage. Order books for first quarter delivery are rapidly filling up, they said.

In this situation prices are being held stiffly and there is talk of an advance in some quarters.

COOLIDGE BACK AT WORK

Official Business Piles Up During Western Trip

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Back from his visit to Chicago, Pres. Coolidge, before his today a long list of appointments and an accumulation of official business.

The Chicago trip, made primarily to speak at the International live stock exposition, was the only one the president had arranged prior to the first of the year and so far no invitations involving absence from Washington, for several months have been accepted.

Mr. Coolidge has told friends he intends to remain rather close to the job inasmuch as a number of executive problems constantly will be coming up, and also with the next four months he must determine upon his cabinet and deal with a number of other appointments.

VOTING LAW IS PROPOSED

Ohio Measure Intended To Increase Election Interest

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—Drastic legislation seeking to bring about greater interest and participation in Ohio primaries is to be introduced at the coming session of the state legislature by Representative John H. Lindsley of Ashland.

Although he failed to vote at the primaries, Lindsley's proposed bill, Failure of the elector to vote at two primaries would bar him from voting during three subsequent years, if the Lindsley bill becomes a law.

"One of the greatest troubles of our present-day primaries is the failure of so many voters to realize their importance," Rep. Lindsley says.

PRIMARIES IMPORTANT

"The primaries," Rep. Lindsley continues, "are of more importance than the elections, in that we are compelled to vote at elections for men who receive the nominations at the primaries."

"I cannot understand why any one who votes at the election, but not at an election when they took no part in the preceding primary."

"I would like to see this bill passed so that if the voter did not register and vote at the primary, unless, of course, he had some reasonable excuse, it would bar him from taking part in the election. If he fails to vote at the primaries, it would bar him from voting for three more years."

"I am of the opinion that such a law would increase the number who vote at primaries and also at election if they knew they would be barred for a number of years if they did not vote."

"Something must be done to stimulate voters to vote at the primaries. For under the system we cannot vote for other men only those who are nominated. Therefore the primaries become the most important part of the election."

$2,214 DAMAGES SOUGHT

Property Owner Institute Action Against City

STREET GRADE RAISED

Construction Of Bridge Is Cause Of Suit

Damages of $2,214 are sought in a suit filed in common pleas court Saturday by J. J. Holland, E. North-st., against the city of Lima for injury to his property caused by construction of the E. North-st. bridge in 1921.

The suit is one of several similar actions instituted, since construction of the bridge, by property owners who allege the raising of the street grade has damaged the value of their holdings.

Holland asserts that he is the owner of real estate on the west side of the bridge, on which a 19-room apartment building stands.

AT GRADE

At the time the building was erected it was put up in conformity with the then established street grade.

In 1921 the city, in making plans for the new bridge, is alleged to have unlawfully raised the grade along the 50-foot frontage owned by Holland, to a level of five feet or more above his lot.

Holland contends that his sidewalk was buried. Storm water ran off the street, flooding his lot he alleges, filling his cellar and rotting the foundations of his house.

PUBLICITY CASE ORDERED UP

Early Action Predicted In Newspaper's Appeal

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—Attorney General Stone has ordered the Kansas City Journal Post income tax publicity case appealed directly to the supreme court at the earliest possible moment. It was announced at the department of justice today.

The indictment charging Walter Dickey, owner and, and Ralph Ellis, managing editor of the Journal Post with illegally publishing tax returns, was knocked out by the action of the Kansas City federal court in sustaining a defense demurrer on the ground that the paper had the right to publish the returns under the freedom of the press constitutional agreement.

The case can be taken direct to the supreme court, skipping the usual procedure of going to the court of appeals, as it involves a constitutional question. The department has asked U. S. District Attorney C. C. Madson, at Kansas City, to make all possible haste in getting the appeal before the high court. The Journal Post case will be decided probably within a few months and before a final ruling can be obtained on the law in the Baltimore and New York indictments.

ROCKEFELLER DREAMS OF GARDEN TENEMENT

NEW YORK—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., it was announced today, behind a movement headed by the Empires Mortgage Co. to bring the first "Garden Tenements" to Manhattan by constructing a block of wage-earners' ideal homes on the East Side.

Each of the experimental tenements will face on a garden with a playground for children and the homes so arranged that each family will get sunshine and fresh air and each family will be provided with one or two bath rooms.

It is planned to keep the rentals near the level now paid by tenants in New York slums.

A Comprehensive Message

The careful reader of the President's message on "the state of the Union," is impressed by the sweeping view he takes of the nation's moral as well as its material interests, and his sympathetic expression of wishes and hopes for their betterment nationally and individually, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. It is impossible in one state paper to cover all the aspirations of each of a hundred million minds and hearts. In a general way the President has covered a broad scope, and specifically he has drawn attention to many important problems, other than finance, taxation and transportation, that are in the minds of forward-looking citizens.

President Coolidge discusses the agricultural situation with utmost consideration for the improvement of conditions in that important function of national life which suffered so grievously in the post-war adjustment. Intimately associated with this are his pleas for national aid in reclamation of arid lands to productive fertility, the control of floods, the extension of waterways improvements and the conversion of Muscle Shoals and other government water power developments to the public benefit and welfare.

In the field of sociology the President stresses the need for reforms in the conduct of prisons and reformatory institutions, extension of the National Police Bureau for the detection, prevention and control of crime. He points to the necessity for legislation for the speeding of justice and the broadening of the welfare work of the Government in all the territories, including its charities and its correctional efforts. He emphasizes the importance of pressing forward the economic and social interests of wage earners and the dependent veterans of our wars. He urges broadening of opportunities for the negro to elevate himself in the citizenry of the nation.

On the same line, but in the international field, the President stresses the movements for the extension of peace, the disarmament of the agencies of war and the development of a system of international law and the creation of an international court of justice to facilitate progress toward these ends.

It is, indeed, a comprehensive review that the President has made of "the state of the Union." Plainly, he has given thoughtful consideration to suggestions for relief from disturbing conditions in all phases of national life to reasonable measures to promote the welfare of all the people, materially and socially.

Machine Cashier

Boston tries out a mechanical cashier on its elevated railways. Customer puts into a slot any coin from 50 cents down, and the machine automatically makes change and lets him pass thru the wicket. Movie ticket sellers and thousands of others might be displaced by such a machine.

We call ours the "mechanical age." Yet, compared with the future, we have barely begun to use machinery, which eventually will do the bulk of man's work and enable him to live comfortably by working only a few hours a day.

Fascisti Opposition

The menace to Fascism in Italy consists not in repeated criticism from its political opponents but in the fact that these critics now voice openly their feeling in the matter, says the Dayton News. New parties are being formed each week or so thruout the country, all having for their purpose, so far as may be judged, a determination to reduce Mussolini's authority and if possible reduce the premier to a state of inability to exercise autocratic powers. Here and there in the country Fascism is being denounced with open feelings, and it is this element which would seem to offer to Mussolini the greatest obstacle to his continued hold upon the government. Some people are talking in terms of "rebirth of liberty" as if the Fascisti had supplanted one objectionable government by offering another of a similar character. The hour for the supreme test of this theory of government is about ready to strike thruout Italy, and it is important both for the future of Fascism and for the people of Italy that the lines be clearly drawn, so that whatever follows may be understood to mean that the majority has spoken in terms that require complete adhesions to the will of the people. If popular government is to remain the people themselves must rule.

Doesn't Last Long

Old-timers will recall Clara Morris, one of the great actresses of long ago. In 1875 she starred at the opening of the Fifth Avenue Theatre in New York. This playhouse recently decided to celebrate the 50th anniversary by a "Clara Morris Night."

Unable to attend, the aged star writes, in part: "Is not Clara Morris pretty much of a legend now, a sort of Cinderella fable? Think of the years, think how the ranks of my beloved public are thinned. There are few men who remember me now, I fancy. I have been outside my house only four times in eight years—rheumatism, I could be shouldered like a bag of oats or rolled in on a roller chair—but—pride forbids. There can be no Clara Morris night, sir. A big lump is in my throat as I say it."

Ah, Clara Morris, yours is a tragedy that sooner or later comes to all of us. How brief is fame and the realization of ambition! How swiftly the curtain falls! How quickly we are forgotten!

The struggle to attain success is long. And the bubble bursts ere our fingers clutch it.

It is a far journey to the top of the mountain. Once there, our view of the grandeur is only a glimpse. The eternal procession of newcomers forces us over the peak, to stand in our place for the moment, then they, too, follow us into the Dark Valley on the other side.

Clara Morris, yours is merely the fate of all the millions who are in the shadows of the sunset of life. Even the mightiest of them soon will be what you so poetically call "only a legend."

The audience goes into oblivion with its stars, like dead leaves fluttering back to their common source, the earth.

Yes, Clara Morris, the past is vanishing in the mists. So say we all. But you still have the memories. No one can take them from you. They defy the passing of years.

In memory you still have your audience, your spotlight, your dramatic lines, your star's dressing room with its green door.

That is all any of us have as we near the end of the long road. Clara Morris—memories.

Deep Drilling

Oil men have been experimentally drilling deep wells, hoping to find large pools of oil under worked-out petroleum fields in the east. At Latrobe, Pa., the world's deepest well strikes gas at a depth of 7428 feet. Where there's gas, there's usually oil.

This deepest well, to date, has cost $200,000—an almost prohibitive price unless oil were found in phenomenal quantities. The important feature is that nature may have prepared, for us, oil deposits at deeper levels for use when present known pools are exhausted.

Milwaukee auto salesman's wife got a divorce. Now she will have a chance to talk some herself.

People work harder in winter. And it takes their minds off the few troubles which work won't end.

A Page from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter: Early up, and out, falling in with a young man who has been doing much brunneting about, of late. Dropped into a public place, and tuned in on a man of varied accomplishments, the best of which seemed his thronological powers. SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: Should a steak that is broiled or grilled, be salted before or after it is cooked? Broiled or grilled steaks should be salted after cooking not only to keep them from splashing, but to keep the juices sealed. Salt has a tendency to draw the juices from the steaks.

Dear Miss Smart: We are three girls. Two of us have brown eyes and brown hair. The other girl has brown hair and eyes also, but has an olive complexion while we are fair. What colors should we wear? Browns, claret, deep russet, subdued crimson, old rose, gold, maize and dull blues are all good colors for the fair skinned, dark haired type. Avoid violets, pinks, light greens, purples and lilac. The brunette with an olive complexion should wear golden brown, rich maize, yellow, deep gold, all reds, maroon, rose, pink, dark blue and cream. Avoid light blue, light green, violet, pink, black and white.

Dear Miss Smart: How does one go about making friends? My husband and I have plenty of money, a pretty apartment and an automobile, but no friends. We meet many people, but don't seem to have the knack of holding their friendship. BILLIE.

Go more than half way to meet people. Most of us are shy, and we are afraid that other people will be bored if we pay them too much attention. As a matter of fact, people are almost always pleased and complimented by it.

Dear Miss Smart: My daughter is in love with a man who is divorcing his wife. He comes to call on her at our house quite as if he were already free to court a young woman. Isn't it wrong of him to do so? MOTHER.

Indeed it is wrong of him, and wrong of your daughter to have anything at all to do with him while he is still married. Her reputation will surely suffer, besides. Insist that this man does not even see your daughter at least until he is free.

Government Makes Good Fight in Texas

GUARD STRONG ANIMALS

Great Britain Modifies Restrictions on Shipping

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Control measures of the Department of Agriculture employed in eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease in southeastern Texas have proven effective, according to the report to the Department by Dr. Marion Limes, in charge of the State and Federal forces engaged in checking the maddie.

Since the outbreak occurred on September 27, the infection has NOT spread from the area originally mapped out as dangerous territory. The last infected herd was found by veterinary inspectors October 15 and was slaughtered and barded the same day. The toll of the disease so far has been limited to six herds containing about 2,700 animals, and in addition about 4,600 stray cattle rounded up from exposed pastures. Extraordinary precautions are being taken to guard the quarantined area for stray animals. Public officials, railroad companies, stockmen, and the public are giving "whole-hearted cooperation," and the presence of Texas rangers have an influence in obtaining compliance with the necessary regulations, according to Dr. Limes. Regulations and restrictions of States prohibiting the entry of livestock and other specified commodities from Texas, "are more reasonable" than those promulgated during the California outbreak of the disease, the Department believes. Restrictions imposed by Great Britain on importations of livestock and animal products from the United States when the Texas outbreak was reported, have been modified and now restrict, chiefly, importations originating in the Western and Southwestern States.

in City Wants Kelly For Team

NEW YORK — Both of the city's first basemen, the an George Kelly and the youthful Bill Terry, are mentioned as coveted players in the National League.

Kelly's name arose when it was reported that the Yankees had placed Catcher Farrell on the market and it was said that he would be traded to the Red Sox.

But the Red Sox, who are said to be in the market for a first baseman, are not interested in Kelly, but here the scene changed and it was said that the Yankees would better serve the needs of President Veeck and the Red Sox by trading Kelly to the Chicago Cubs.

MANAGERS PASSED UP DEMPSEY AND WILLS WAS GIVEN AWAY

COMPARED to the big money that was paid for the services of the late Babe Ruth, the money paid for the services of the late Jimmie Foxx, who was traded to the Red Sox, was a mere pittance.

Doc Bagley, who prides himself on his shrewdness, sold Gene Tunney to Billy Gibson for $60,000.

At the time Tunney looked like a hot prize in the boxing ring. Bagley checked to him, "That's one time the great Gibson was right."

A few months later Tunney won the light heavyweight championship. Last fall he was matched with Carpenter at the Polo Grounds. The fight drew more than $100,000.

Notre Dame Seeks New Fields

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — The 1925 gridiron schedule of the Western Conference was under arrangement today at the second day's session of faculty representatives, athletic directors and coaches.

Tentative schedules had been drawn by most of the coaches, but some conflicts and difficulties remained to be thrashed out. Baseball, track and field and swimming men also met today to arrange their programs.

St. Johns Hit Spencers Hard

DELPHOS — In a hustling, bumping, ferocious battle on the St. John's gym here Friday night between the St. John's five and Spencerville, the latter outfit were smothered by a score of 32-6.

The invading Spencervillians were completely outclassed from the time Hanf, St. John's forward, shot five baskets in succession as a beginning until the final gun crack that ended one of the most one-sided affairs that was ever played here.

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Renewal of sniping warfare in several old political feuds and the opening of hostility in new sectors are expected here next week when the annual meetings of the major league club owners will put baseball back in print for several days.

Judge Landis, because of the illness of his wife may not be able to attend the major league meeting in New York next Thursday.

His plans depend on the condition of Mrs. Landis at that time. There does not seem to be any indications that the Commissioner has any intentions of staying away thru the Johnson controversy.

There were 15,000 early morning fans jammed into Madison Square Garden at 2 o'clock when the "South Orange" youngsters Harry Horn and the San Francisco boy Willie Hanley swirled and got a hard fall. Both will be out of the race as a result.

Low Burston, manager of the English gliding Denny Finch, is trying to get the boxer in bad with the New York boxing board, claiming that he has no right to fight in England without his consent. He claims that he has a contract with Frisch. The Commission has promised to take the matter up with the English authorities.

Why wasn't we on? Malzavene owned by the small racing stable of Wendel & Mendor, running at Tijuana, won the second race Friday afternoon and rewarded his backers at the rate of $119.70 to a dollar. She was quoted in the $2 mutuels at $240.00 to show, $20.00 place and $20.00 show. Of course stable hands were about the only ones that got in on the killing.

Pancho Villa, the Philippine flyweight, finds himself on the wrong side of the purse in a contest with his government, which seeks to collect a separate income tax from earnings on which Villa paid a tax to the United States government where the money was won in the prize ring. Rather hard on the little fighter to be forced to pay twice.

Michigan will not play Chicago next season, according to A. A. Slag. Chicago has already four stiff battles slated, two of which are with eastern teams, which were undefeated this season, and that games will probably be arranged with Illinois and Northwestern, making it impossible for the Maroons to play Michigan.

The directors of the veterans athletes of Philadelphia, at a special meeting to arrange its eighteenth annual dinner, unanimously decided that Notre Dame was the outstanding football team of 1924, and that team will be awarded a national championship cup. The trophy is donated by Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell of the Philadelphia Municipal court, who is also president of the association. The cup is to be awarded in such years as produce a team whose standing is so preeminent as to make its selection as champion of America beyond dispute.

Charles O'Connell of Cleveland is being groomed to replace Benny Leonard in Billy Gibson's fighting stable.

Al Brown, the Harlem flyweight, is taller than any fighter in the game with the exception of the full-fledged heavyweights.

Marcel Sembalt, with $9 winning mounts, beat Guy Garnier, American rider, with $0, out of top position on the French turf this year.

The Chicago White Sox must plug up the weakness at short, if the club is to improve its position in the race next season.

Ty Cobb believes Reilman's slump in hitting last season was due to prostration. He was trying too hard to repeat as the league's leading batsman.

Ira Thomas, a brainy catcher when with the Philadelphia Athletics, has failed to deliver as a minor league manager. He's turned scout.

Nothing developed during the past season to alter the standing of Dexter and Edith Cummings as the best brother and sister golf team in this country.

MYATT'S LONE FAULT If Glenn Myatt of Cleveland could handle pitchers as well as he can hit, he would have no superior back of the bat in the American League.

MOUNTAINS FULL OF BEARS

Animals May Go Unprotected in Adirondacks

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. — (By United Press) — Despite that, owing to the forest fire menace, hunters were kept out of the Adirondack forests for half the season, a record number of bears were killed in all sections of the mountains this year.

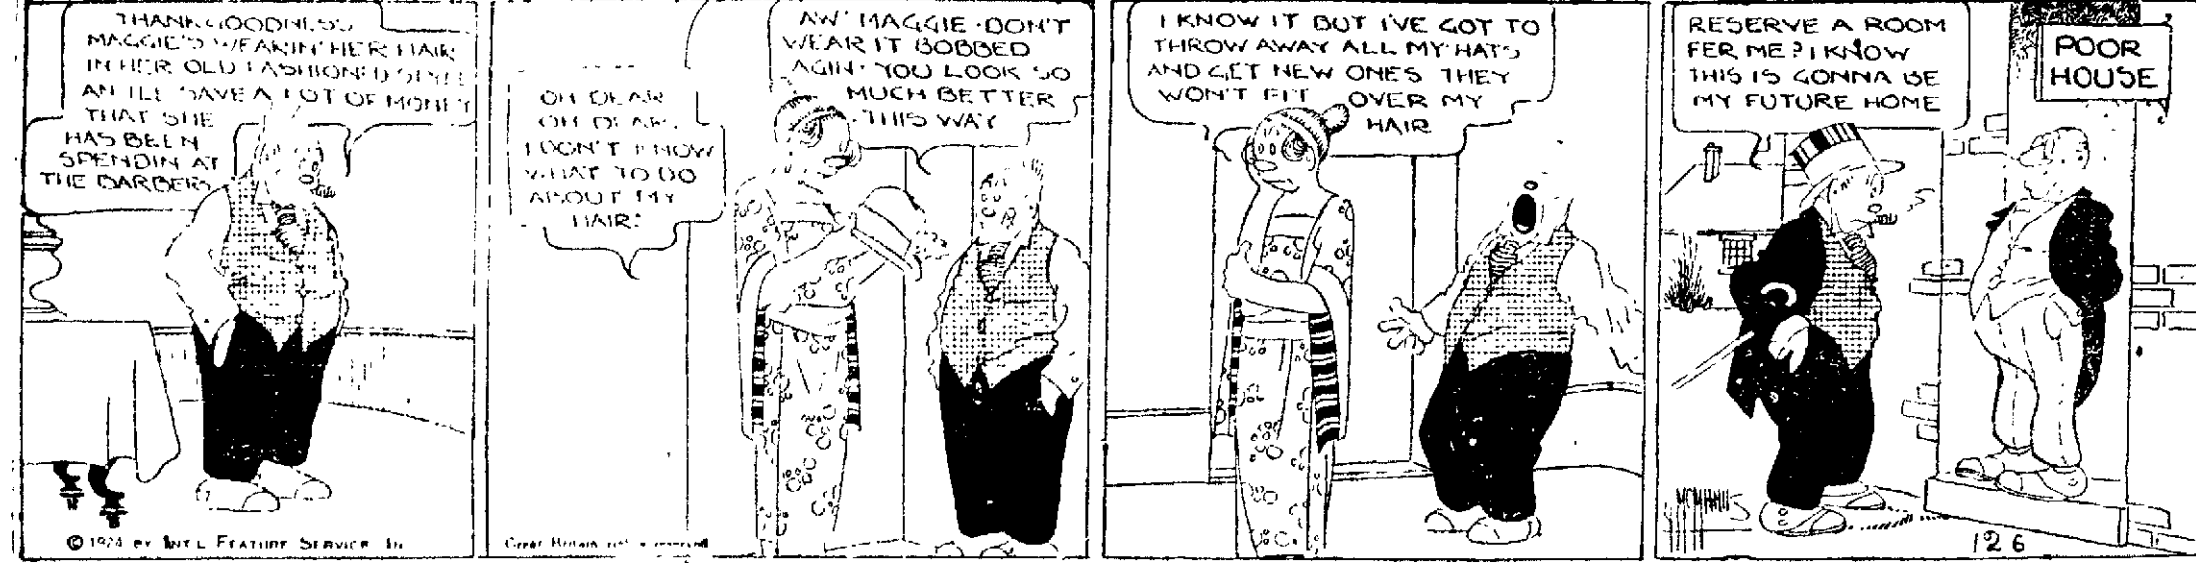

It is probable that as a result of the large number killed within a fortnight of hunting, the present law, which protects Adirondack bears for eleven months in the year, will be repealed and the former all year open season restored.

Adirondack hunters have maintained that bears needed no protection and if they were protected they would increase to an extent that would soon place them in the nuisance class. The old time mountain hunters who made a business of trapping and killing bears for the bounty have passed. The younger generation of hunters are by no means as skillful. As a result even before the tribe of bruin was protected, the bears had things just about their own way, except during the open season for deer, when a number would be killed by deer hunters. Now, with eleven months protection each year, the animals are increasing by leaps and bounds, say Adirondack woodsmen.

R. R. MEANS NEW COAST ROUTE

Trail Over Peak Will Be Eliminated

DENVER, Colo. — (By United Press) — Forty miles of railroad to be built in the heart of the Rocky mountains west of Denver means another transcontinental railroad system for the United States.

Articles or incorporation for this new road were filed in Cheyenne, Wyo., several weeks ago. It will connect the Denver and Rio Grande Western with the Denver and Salt Lake Western at a point on the western slope of the continental divide, 150 miles from Denver.

The mountain peaks between this connecting road and Denver are some of the highest in America; since railroads began to traverse the continent they have been effective barriers to transportation. The Denver and Salt Lake Western, known as the Moffat Road, was the only railroad to attempt to climb them. At James park, where the Moffat crosses the continental divide, 22 miles of track are used in spiral curves before the straightaway distance from Denver is increased six miles.

The Denver and Rio Grande Western, instead of climbing over the divide to Denver, crept 220 miles south thru Tennessee pass to the valley of the Arkansas river, down thru the Royal Gorge, and then made its way back north to Denver.

The Moffat tunnel, six miles in length, will eliminate the 22 miles over James peak and give an almost direct trunk line west of Denver. Forty miles of new track will connect the Moffat railroad with the Rio Grande, where it turns south to wind thru Tennessee pass.

The Moffat tunnel and the new road will decrease the distance from Denver to Salt Lake City by 173 miles. Dangerous curves and grades over the divide will be eliminated by the Moffat tunnel, giving the nation a new and direct transcontinental line.
